TUESDAY, JUNE 2, 1767.

To the COUNTY of BUCKS.

GENTLEMEN,

THE Relationſhip formerly ſubſiſting between us, and the conduct and character I held in the moſt critical ſituation England ever found itſelf in, makes apologies from me to you unneceſſary for the liberty I now take in addreſſing myſelf to you; for though I may appear to arraign your principles, I have no other motive than to juſtify my own, which muſt have been highly criminal in oppoſing the claims of Charles Stuart, if the conduct of the Americans is ſo attrocious, as you are pleaſed to declare it in your late letter of thanks to your members.

Few people can ſee a good reaſon for your mixing ſuch different paſſions as reſentment and gratitude together; but the ſpirits of faction, under the influence of a diſcarded miniſter, and a ſelf-important peer, will join the greateſt contrarieties. Your object in thanking your repreſentatives can deceive no one here, nor indeed in your corrupted world. No one doubts that ſelfiſhneſs is your governing principle; which indeed you have not the modeſty to conceal. But if you had been ambitious of acquiring a ſolid intereſt, and real applauſe from the reſt of the kingdom, you would have addreſſed your repreſentatives to relieve the poor, by taking off thoſe taxes which are peculiarly burthenſome to them, and then you would have done a public good. As it is, I am afraid the laborious tenant and land-holder will have but little benefit of the reduction of the land-tax, which will only ſerve to promote the diſſipation, and increaſe the inſolence of the griping and ſelfiſh landlord.

But why ſhould you treat your fellow-ſubjects in America in ſo approbious a manner? Could you not ſhew your gratitude, which generally flows from the pureſt ſource without corruption, and rendering it foul by the blackneſs of malice? But perhaps your ignorance of America may have led you into this bad diſpoſition, and indeed you are very ignorant of it, when you ſay, 'that the expences you complain 'of have hitherto been conſtantly borne by his Majeſty's 'colonies in America;' for we well know, neither the moſt blundering or moſt wicked miniſter, that ever plagued this country, attempted to tax America, until it entered the head of a poor financier, whom you are well acquainted with: But perhaps you have imputed the higheſt crimes in ſociety to the Americans only, to raiſe the clamour of party againſt them; but if you have any charity, conſider while you are thus made the tools of diſappointment and reſtleſs ambition, you do all that is in your power to render three millions of your fellow ſubjects miſerable. The fable of the frogs and boys may teach you humanity.

I beg you would candidly conſider the principles on which the Americans fancy a right of exemption from taxes by the Britiſh parliament. If you are too proud to condeſcend to enquire into the principles, or have an intereſt in diſregarding them; yet, if you have any memory, you muſt know they are the very ſame which I ſupported in defence of the liberties which you now enjoy: The K—g, who then claimed the ſupreme power, levied a tax, as he ſaid, for the protection of the kingdom; though in the profoundeſt peace, and for the neceſſities of the ſtate, which he declared himſelf ſole judge of; theſe were you know mere pretences; but whether they were ſo or not was of little moment; the ground of my opinion, then approved of by you for your own ſakes, was the having my property taken from me without any aſſent; that the ſame power, which had a right to do it for good purpoſes, might not ſcruple, and would have the ſame authority, to do it for the worſt; and that he, who only took twenty ſhillings at firſt, might and would ſoon rob me of my whole eſtate. The K—g, I ſaid, ought not to be inveſted with this power, becauſe he had but little knowledge of the abilities of his ſubjects, and no feelings of their diſtreſs, as he parted with nothing from himſelf.

You know I was inſulted and abuſed by the ſychophants of prerogative and power, as guilty of faction, ſedition, and rebellion, in maintaining theſe arguments, which I imagined were conſtitutional, were founded on the law of nature, and which conſiſtently no climate, no time, no contract, could refute or impeach. Do not then, for my ſake, and what will have a greater weight with you, for your own ſakes, abuſe your fellow-ſubjects in America. Conſider they have as much right to liberty as yourſelves; that the government of America may be made a precedent for the like in Great-Britain; and that your eſſential intereſt may be affected by driving the Americans to deſpair. Conſider that though you are an inland county, and may think you have little to do with commerce; yet that in fact you would not have avoided the calamity and ruin which London, Briſtol, or Liverpool would have undergone by the loſs of trade, and which would certainly have enſued, if the wiſdom of parliament had not interpoſed, and repealed that act, and changed thoſe meaſures which you now ſo injudiciouſly preſs to have renewed. Remember that the writs for furniſhing ſhips were firſt directed to the ſea ports, but that they were ſoon extended to you, who perhaps never ſaw any thing more than a Weſt Country barge.

The Americans indeed have been led into a miſtake; but it is ſuch as a well-intentioned people might have fallen into; therefore ought not to be calumniated; ſuch as you yourſelves would certainly have been guilty of, had you been in their ſituation, and ſuch as I am ſure I ſhould not have avoided, if I had retained the ſpirit and principles of London, March 3, 1767. HAMPDEN.

To the Printer of the PUBLIC ADVERTISER.

SIR,

IT is amazing one Day to ſee the Spirit of the Tories raiſed by a vain Hope that their Patron, the Gentle Shepherd, with his new converted Tool the conſiſtent Lord Gawkee, is to be reſtored to the Plenitude of his much-hated Power. The next Day we ſee, that the boaſted Triumph is turned into a Diſgrace, and that it ſerves only to enhance the public Odium, and to heighten the fallen Miniſter's Unpopularity. Thus are the profligate deteſted Tools of his former miſapplied Influence fluctuating between Hope and Deſpair. But how ſtrange muſt it appear to the mercantile and monied Intereſt, to ſee the œconimical Gentle Shepherd obſtructing the Relief of the Public Credit, and preventing the Diſcharge of the National Debt! Though this Meaſure may be taken in order to embarraſs and diſtreſs Government, it can never ſurely ſerve any real Purpoſe, but muſt terminate in Confuſion and Diſappointment to the motly profligate Crew of diſgraced ſtigmatiſed Patriots.

It cannot but excite our Laughter, when the hungry Emiſſaries of the conſiſtent Lord Gawkee, are ſent about to give out that the great and ſpirited Miniſter is too poor to reſign. In vain may the deſperate impudent Humphry Riot, and the abject brawling Dick Swift, run all over the Town with the happy Thought of the Day. In vain may honeſt Vamp draw his Quill, and fill every Paper with Lies, Libels, and Lampoons: No, the great Man is too firm to be awed by a deſperate disjointed Faction, who cannot truſt, and always continue to hate one another. He laughs at their vain and feeble Efforts, tho' ſeconded by a few Men; who, 'till lately, have profeſſed a Regard to the ſacred Cauſe of Candor and Truth. In vain may Weathercock deſert and betray, the great Man will ſtill continue firm; and we need not doubt will treat the meek, fickle, and unmanly Wretch, with the Contempt due to the utter Inſignificance of his Character,

DREADNOUGHT.

INTELLIGENCE EXTRAORDINARY.

WE hear that there was very good Sport at the Races laſt Week between Mr. Weathercock's Horſe Conqueror, and the Gentle Shepherd's Horſe America; The odds at Starting were Four to Three on Conqueror. It was a very hard Match; but America having the beſt Rider, beat Conqueror through mere Dint of Jockeyſhip by a Horſe's Length.

N. B. It is imagined they will ſoon run again, as this Race is deemed not deciſive as to the Ability of the Horſes.

WE hear that upon the Arrival of a certain Great Perſonage at the Weſt End of the Town, many Perſons of great Note were immediately ſtruck Dumb, and have not been heard to ſpeak ſince, while others, who till then, laboured under the ſame Misfortune, were at ſuddenly reſtored to the Uſe of Speech, to the great Joy of all their Friends, and the Terror and Amazement of their Enemies, many who were paſſionately fond of Court Minuets and Prerogative Muſic, have changed their Notes, and are now extravagantly in Love with Country Dances. Some who, (like the Frog in the Fable) had ſwell'd themſelves into Beings of great Importance, inſtantly ſunk into their primitive Nothingneſs, while, not a few, have burſted with Envy and Deſpair into equal Inſignificance. Do not all theſe aſtoniſhing Events prove, that Miracles are not yet ceaſed.

GENOA, JANUARY 31.

IN conſequence of ſome advices received from Verſailles, our government has ſuſpended the execution of what it had projected with reſpect to St. Remo. It is ſaid that the Ambaſſador from the Court of Vienna, at Paris, has declared to the King of France, that his Imperial Majeſty would examine into that affair afreſh, and not decide it without the greateſt deliberation.

COPENHAGEN, Feb. 3. We have been informed by a letter from the Sieur Niebuhr, dated at Aleppo the 18th of laſt September, that he was arrived at the Iſle of Cyprus from the Holy Land. This learned Gentleman has viſited Jeruſalem, Damas, Seyde, Tripoli, and Latakia, and has determined, from aſtronomical obſervations, the ſituation of one part of the coaſts of Syria, which had never been before ſettled. He intended to travel to Conſtantinople by land, from whence we expect him in this kingdom the enſuing ſpring.

PARIS, March 9. We hear from Graſſe, that on the 9th ult. at a Quarter after Four in the Morning, three ſucceſſive Shocks of the Earth were felt at that Place. The firſt laſted but a few Seconds, tho' it waked ſeveral Perſons in Bed, and threw down ſome Tiles and Chimneys. During its Continuance, a ſound was heard like that of a ſtrong Guſt of Wind. The two other Shocks were not ſo ſenſibly felt. Theſe Shocks were conſiderably more violent in Italy, but diminiſhed in Proportion as they were nearer to France. Their Force was greateſt at Venice; leſs conſiderable at Genoa, and ſtill leſs at Nice.

On the 19th ult. died at Montpelier, in his ſixty-firſt Year, M. Francis Boiſſier de Sauvages, Royal Profeſſor of the Univerſity of that City, and Member of moſt of the Academies in Europe.

BRUSSELS, March 3. A man, named Gilles Wernant, died at Huy the 27th ult. aged 109 years: he had never any ſickneſs, and enjoyed all his faculties to the laſt day of his life.

LONDON, MARCH 5.

A few days ſince, a Clergyman went to dine with his noble Patron, who had preſented him with three Livings; during the courſe of dinner, his Patron found fault with one of his ſervants; on which, the Clergyman rebuked him for ſo doing, and told him it was not like a Chriſtain; on which, his Patron, roſe from the table, and went and took hold of him to ſhew him the door, at going out of which, there happened to be a pail of water ſtanding, which the moſt Parſon took up and flung directly over his Patron; and unluckily a hand ſcrubbing bruſh, happened to be in the pail, hit him on the head ſo violent a blow, that he has been very ill ever ſince.

MARCH 10. We are informed that the Right Hon. Charles Townſhend has not reſigned his place of Chancellor of the Exchequer, as has been aſſerted.

A young Prince of Anamaboo is coming over to England this ſummer for his education.

The lords of the Admiralty has appointed Lucius O'Brien, Eſq; to the command of the Gibraltar.

Yeſterday there was a very great Board of Trade and Plantations.——There was alſo a great Board of Treaſury.

A few days ago the Keels of two new Ships, to mount 64 Guns each, were put upon the Stocks at Milford-haven in Pembrokeſhire, and are to be finiſhed with all Expedition.

The Differences and Diſputes amongſt the Great Ones, at the Weſt End of the Town, it is now ſaid are all happily compromiſed, on which Account the expected Changes in the Miniſtry will not take place.

Yeſterday died after a lingering Illneſs, at his Houſe near Wood's Cloſe, Mr. Beale Blackwell, the moſt eminent Inkmaker for Printers in Europe.

MARCH 15. On Monday an extra Number of Ship-carpenters, Riggers and Caulkers, were taken into pay at Portſmouth Dock; and the like Orders have been ſent to Plymouth, for the greater Expedition of the Men of War fitting out.

They write from Dublin, that one hundred and forty Families were embarked the latter End of laſt Month, on board four Tranſports in the River Liffey, for Weſt Florida.

It is reported, that a great Man in the Adminiſtration has ſtrongly enforced the Expediency of Great-Britain maintaining the Corſican Nation in their Independency, and that even the Miniſters of two foreign Powers have made ſome late Applications to our Court in their Favour.

Letters from Berlin adviſe, that Orders had been given to the Pruſſian Governors in Silefia, that no Perſons, either Subjects or Foreigners, ſhould be ſuffered to depart out of that Dutchy, without firſt obtaining the Conſent of his Majeſty.

By the Death of John Lord Viſcount Mayo, who died without Iſſue Male, the Title and Dignity of that noble Family devolve on David Bourke, of the County of Mayo in Ireland, Eſq; who is his Lordſhips Heir at Law, and Kinſman.

MARCH 14. Yeſterday there was a grand Levee at St. James's, after which there was a Council.

The ſame Day there was a very grand Board of Treaſury at Whitehall.

It is the reigning Report, at the Weſt End of the Town, that we ſhall ſhortly ſee a new War break out in Germany between two powerful Royal Houſes.

Notwithſtanding the almoſt poſitive Aſſertion in the Papers to the contrary, it is ſtrongly affirmed to us, a radical Change in the Adminiſtration will ſoon begin to take Place; and from the Complexion of our intended new Miniſters, the Hand that uſhers them into Office will be eaſily gueſſed at.

But there are others, however, who make no Scruple to pronounce, that in a very few Days the Miniſtry will be cleared of every Anti-Chathamite; a very great Perſonage, they ſay, being fully reſolved, at all Events, to ſupport the Earl of Chatham and his Plans, as they are all inconteſtibly calculated for the public Benefit.

It is now confidently given out, that the great Man, whoſe Reſignation was lately publiſhed in the News Papers, has repented his humiliating Condeſcention to the noble Guide, and has once more refuſed his Purpoſe of retiring.

Yeſterday Morning Diſpatches were ſent off from Mr. Secretary Conway's Office for their Excellencies the Lords Juſtices of Ireland.

It is ſaid that Sir Edward Hawke, and ſome more of the Lords Commiſſioners of the Admiralty, will ſet out early this Summer to make the Survey of all the Men of War at Portſmouth and Plymouth; together with the Marine Arſenals, and Royal Dock-yards.

It is now poſitively ſaid that the Eaſt-India Company as the Baſis of their Negotiations, have demanded a Renewal of their Charter for 99 Years.

A short time [illegible], one Tedder, a [illegible] of a Village in Eſſex bordering on Suffolk, [illegible] Copyhold Eſtate left him of about 30l. per Annum; in conſequence of which he applied to the Steward of the Manor, (the Lord of which is now at Paris) but not having Money to pay the ſtatutary Fine, which amounted to a Year's Income, he was refuſed Admiſſion: In order to obtain it, he declared he would go to Paris; his Neighbours ridiculed his Scheme as fooliſh and romantic, and diſſuaded him from it, but he perſiſted in his Reſolution of undertaking the Journey: Accordingly he muſtered up all he was worth, went forward on his Expedition, and embarked with his Son, about twelve Years old, at Dover. On landing at Calais he had only a Groat left, and underſtood not a Word of the Language of the Country, but luckily meeting a Blackſmith, who had formerly been a Priſoner of War in England, and could ſpeak Engliſh, he informed him of his Story; the Blackſmith wrote a brief Narrative of the Caſe, and bid him apply to the Houſes on the Road, and ſhew the Paper, which was attended with very happy Succeſs, being hoſpitably ſupplied with coarſe Bread and Soup, and permitted to lie at Night in Outhouſes. After ſome Days Peregrination he arrived at Paris, and ſoon found out his Lordſhip's Hotel where he applied, and being known by ſome of the Servants, had the Honour of being introduced to his Lordſhip, in his miſerable ragged Condition, having ſcarcely Cloaths to his Back, or Shoes to his Feet. On telling the Reaſon of his Viſit, his Lordſhip, who remembered the Man, could not help laughing heartily at the Oddity of the Scheme; and he was afterwards introduced to her Ladyſhip, and, by both their Bounties, he and his Son were new cloathed, and generouſly relieved with Money ſufficient to carry them home; his Lordſhip likewiſe forgave the Fine, and gave him an Inſtrument, ſigned by himſelf, in order to have Admiſſion to his Eſtate. The poor Man was overwhelmed with Gratitude, expreſſed his Thanks in the beſt Manner he was able, and, on his Return, took Poſſeſſion, to the Aſtoniſhment of his Neighbours.

By a Letter from Bath, dated March 11, we hear, that the celebrated Miſs Kitty Fiſher arrived there in her Way to Briſtol on Monday laſt; ſhe was taken ſpeechleſs the next Morning, and died in a few Hours, at the Three Tons in that City.

We hear from Ireland, that every Officer who does not join his Regiment as ordered, is not only to have his Pay ſtopped, but alſo be put under Arreſt; in Conſequence of which Orders there are three Officers at preſent under Arreſt.

MARCH 16. A few days ſince died, at her houſe near Endfield Wath, the notorious Mother Wells, who many years kept a houſe of Infamy there. It is amazing ſhe died a natural death, having been ſeveral times impriſoned for vile offences, and once branded in the hand, for detaining in her houſe in conjunction with Mrs. Squires the Gipſy, the celebrated Miſs Betty Canning. She was buried on Wedneſday laſt in Enfield Church-yard, and purſuant to her dying requeſt, the bearers were treated with a penny worth of beer each at every publick houſe in the way, which is near two miles.

Extract of a Letter from Tunis, dated January 7.

"The Regency of the State having propoſed a treaty of peace to the Corſicans, their General Paoli has ſent hither on that occaſion a perſon named Paciola, who was formerly a Lieutenant of infantry in the ſervice of the Republic of Genoa. As ſoon as he was arrived, he had an audience of the Bey, and delivered him a letter from Paoli, importing, that that Chief could not come to any reſolution concerning the ſaid treaty before the month of May next; but at that time, provided the articles were previouſly ſent to him, he would give him a deciſive anſwer. Upon this, the Bey aſked him, if his Superior was in fear of diſpleaſing the Chriſtain world, by making peace with Tunis; when Paciola boldly anſwered, That Corſica, not depending on any power, had no reaſon to conſult any one about the conduct which ſhe ſhould obſerve. Be it as it may, the Bey told Paciola, that he ſhould expect to have an anſwer ſooner, and, to falicitate it, would ſend to Paoli the articles in queſtion. Paciola is going ready to depart by the firſt ſhip for Corſica." If this negotiation ſhould come to maturity, it would be a great diſadvantage to the navigation of the ſubjects of ſome of the States of Italy, as the Tuniſian corſiers would find, upon occaſion, an afylum in ſeveral ports of that iſland.

Extract of a Letter from Madrid, February 20.

"It is very confidently aſſerted that Spain and the Empire of Morocco have concluded an offenſive treaty of union againſt the Regency of Algier; in conſequence of which, the Emperor of Morocco, at the head of a numerous army (to be maintained at the expence of his Catholic Majeſty) is to march to Algier, to inveſt and beſiege it on the land-ſide, while twenty-two Spaniſh ſhips of the line, as many xebeques and two bomb-ketches, block up and bombard the port; and it is ſaid that orders relative to this grand event have been already ſent to Ferrol and Carthagena, and to all the Spaniſh colonies in America."

MARCH 17. Yeſterday there was a very grand Levee at St. James's.

This being St. Patrick's Day, the Tutelar Saint of Ireland, the ſame is to be obſerved at Court as an high Feſtival; his Majeſty and the reſt of the Royal Family will wear Croſſes in Honour of the Day, and the Knights of the Garter, Thiſtle and Bath, will appear at Court with the Enſigns of their reſpective Noble Orders.

We have the Pleaſure to inform the Public, that the Marquis of Taviſtock, who lately received a Hurt by a dangerous Fall from his Horſe, was Yeſterday in a fair Way of Recovery.

A ſcheme is ſaid to be on foot for building a palace at Whitehall, after the plan of [illegible]

MARCH 18. Letters from Denmark mention, that the Coronation of their Daniſh Majeſties is to be ſome Time next Month, but the Day is not fixed.

The Subſtance of what was propoſed Yeſterday at the General Court of the India Company, was, That there ſhould be an Addition of two Millions to their preſent Capital, and that it ſhould be ſubſcribed at 250 per Cent. the preſent Proprietors to have the Preference: That 800,000l. ſhould be paid to the Government for extending their Charter for 50 Years; and that a Dividend of 14 per Cent. ſhould be made on the Capital Stock, and the Surplus to go to the Government for Protection, &c. MARCH 19. Yeſterday the levee at James's was very numerous, and afterwards a cabinet council was held, at which moſt of the great officers of ſtate, and many of the privy council aſſiſted.

If we may credit ſome accounts, our trade with Portugal is not likely ever to be ſo conſiderable as heretofore; not owing, as has been repreſented, ſo much to the averſion of the Portugueſe to the Engliſh, as to their being able to furniſh themſelves with the manufactures they formerly took from us. Some few years ſince, one houſe in the city of London was ſaid to furniſh Portugal annually with hats, to the amount of between ſeven and eight thouſand pounds, which branch of trade is now almoſt entirely loſt, the Portugueſe having ſince eſtabliſhed manufactories of their own, whereby they are enabled to ſupply themſelves at a cheaper rate, than when they imported that article of commerce from foreign countries.

It is ſaid the Chief of a Religious Order, of whom there are many at preſent in this kingdom, has, as an atonement for allowing fleſh to be eat three days in a week during Lent, prohibited the uſing of ſnuff or tobacco.

MARCH 20. Tueſday night there was a grand ball at Lady Dalkeith's, in Downing-ſtreet, on account of the marriage of his Grace the Duke of Buccleugh to the Hon. Lady Betty Montagu, daughter of his Grace the Duke of Montagu, at which were preſent all the Royal Family, (except their Majeſties) and a prodigious number of the nobility and other perſons of diſtinction.

We hear that a treaty of marriage is on foot, and will ſhortly be celebrated, between the Right Hon. Lord Milton and the Hon. Miſs Conway, daughter of the Right Hon. Henry Seymour Conway, Eſq; one of his Majeſty's principal ſecretaries of ſtate.

Sir Jeffery Amherſt, Knight of the Bath, is ſoon to be married to Miſs Cary, daughter of Major-General Cary, and niece to Lord Falkland.

By ſome letters lately received from Italy, we are adviſed, that the account that the celebrated Chieftain Paoli had entered into an alliance with the States of Barbary, is entirely without foundation.

It is expected that the preſent patriotick miniſtry will ſhortly inſiſt, in the moſt peremptory manner, on the French evacuating the Iſland of Corſica.

We are informed, that the Liſbon mail, which arrived on Tueſday, has brought ſome agreeable advices to the Portugueſe merchants of this city, in reſpect to their commerce with that kingdom.

MARCH 21. Yeſterday there was a full houſe of Commons, and it was expected that they would ſit late; the ſtate of the Eaſt-India company was the object of the debates.

Yeſterday morning Count Mello de Caſtro, the Portugueſe miniſter, had a conference with the Secretaries of State, on the ſubject of ſome important diſpatches from Liſbon.

It is now ſaid William Henry Lyttleton, Eſq; appointed Ambaſſador to Portugal, will not go to Liſbon; the Hon. Edward Hay, Eſq; having ſucceſsfully negotiated the late commercial difference with that court.

The 13th inſtant, in the evening, died at the court of Verſailles, after an illneſs of near a year's continuance, to which ſhe ſubmitted with great chriſtian reſignation, her Royal Highneſs Maria Joſepha, Dauphineſs of France.

They write from Port L'Orient, that the French Eaſt-India Company, had received advice of one of their outward bound ſhips, with a rich cargo, having been loſt at the Mauritius or Iſle of Bourbon.

They write from Cadiz, that ten battalions of Spaniſh infantry and marines were daily expected there, to be embarked on board ſeveral men of war, frigates and bomb-ketches, and it was ſaid their deſtination was for the coaſt of Barbary.

They write from Algiers that twenty-ſeven natives of Corſica, ſome months ago made priſoners on board a Tuſcan veſſel in the Mediterranean, had, by the mediation of his Britannick Majeſty's Conſul, obtained their liberty, and were embarked on board a French Tartan, on their return home.

They write from Senegal, that two Pettiaguars, manned with pyrates, being part of the crew of a French ſlaving ſhip, which had mutinied on the Captain and Officers, were taken near the mouth of Gambia river, by an Engliſh man of war, and brought in there, in order to be tried for divers robberies on the high ſeas.

Seven veſſels, laden with American wheat and flour, were arrived at Greenock, in the Frith of Clyde, when the Glaſgow mail came away.

A diſpute which was likely to be attended with dangerous conſequences between two Gentlemen of title in the navy has been lately terminated by the interpoſition of friends and the authority of a great Admiral.

There is no likelihood whatſoever we are well informed of an equal land tax taking place, becauſe though it is known to be extremely unequal ſtill, new purchaſes being made every day in the aſſeſſed counties, and the conditions of thoſe purchaſes being regulated by the moderation of the tax, it would be hard on thoſe who give an additional price for an eſtate on this account to loſe the advantage of their bargain, and to be ſubject to the ſame impoſition with thoſe counties in which they can buy lands at an infinitely more reaſonable rate.

'Tis ſaid that a tax of twenty ſhillings a year will be levied upon all domeſtic ſervants in Great-Britain.

The late failure of a great Merchant was occaſioned by his having diſburſed ſeveral large ſums on a corn contract with Italy, which he had agreed to ſupply, to the amount of 100,000l. with American wheat. The ſtipulated cargoes are now on the ſeas, and ſhould this adventure turn out well, as is rather probable, he will have a very conſiderable ſurplus after the full payment of his creditors, if not, they will be great ſufferers.

So general is the practice of ſuicide unhappily grown, that upon a moderate computation, no leſs than 170 people have made away with themſelves, in the courſe of the laſt twelvemonth.

CHARLES-TOWN, JUNE 1.

THE lateſt Intelligence from the Creek Nation, give Accounts of an almoſt entire ſtop being put to their Trade laſt Winter, by the Choctaws, who encompaſſed their hunting Grounds in ſuch a Manner, as to prevent them from even ſtiring out of their Towns: This invidious Spirit of the Choctaws, is, in a great Meaſure, attributed to ſome worthleſs Traders, who ſtick at nothing to gain their own ſelfiſh Ends; but we hear, that ſuch a Diſtinction will be made for the future, in granting Liberty to Trade, as will prevent thoſe Miſcreants from carrying their evil Intentions into Execution.

The ſame Letters add, that Mr. Mc Intoſh, who is appointed Commiſſary for the Creek Nation, was arrived there, and had given out ſuch a Talk to them, as gained him their good Wiſhes, and ſincereſt promiſes of Friendſhip; after which they made ſome Complaints, that no Doubt will be attended to.

We likewiſe hear, that John Stuart, Eſq; who ſet out from hence the 21ſt of April, was arrived at Auguſta, where many of the Chiefs of the Creek Nation intend to be very ſhortly: Mr. Stuart communicated the Intentions of the Miniſtry to the principal Traders, and ſtrongly enforced Moderation to them in the Sale of their Goods, which they promiſed to acquieſce with: Attakullakulla, or the Little Carpenter, the Prince of Chote, the Wolf of Keowee and Kinneteta, all Headmen and Warriors of the Cherokee Nation, accompanied by Mr. Commiſſary Cameron, met the Superintendant at Auguſta, to Conduct him to their Country. The Little Carpenter will return with Mr. Stuart to Charles-Town, and from thence proceed for New-York, to wait on General Gage, and the Hon. Sir William Johnſon, Bart. through whoſe Influence he hopes to bring about a Reconciliation between his Nation and the Northern Tribes.

On Tueſday laſt, the Sloop Charles-Town, Joſeph Durfee, Maſter, ſailed for Rhode-Iſland, in whom went Paſſengers, the Rev. Mr. Sergeant, and Lady; Mrs. and Miſs Elliott; Mr. Lambert Lance; Captain James Keith; and ſundry others.

The ſame Day the General Aſſembly adjourned to Tueſday the third Day of November next.

The Governor and his Lady at their Departure were again complemented with a Diſcharge of 19 Guns each.

The ſame Day, about four o'Clock in the Afternoon, we had a prodigious heavy Shower of Hale, ſome of the Stones meaſured two Inches Diameter, and weighed upwards of two Ounces.

The Brig Lloyd, Nicholas Pocock, Maſter, from this Port for Falmouth, being forced into Plymouth by Streſs of Weather, drove on a Rock in Catwater and bilged.
